Introduction to Indian Textiles and Shopping/Museum (9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.)

Pickup: 9 a.m. from your hotel in Andheri

Drop: 5 p.m. to your hotel in Andheri

Description: For thousands of years, India has been the world's leading producer of fine textiles. The country has a rich textile legacy, with strong traditions in weaving, dyeing, printing, and embellishment of natural fabrics. In this interesting hands-on session, we will introduce you to the marvellous range of Indian textile traditions. You will also have the opportunity to try draping some gorgeous Indian sarees, and to shop for crafts and textiles. The session is led by Ms. Radhi Parekh, founder of Artisans, a social enterprise that celebrates India's handmade heritage. Artisans supports traditional craftsmen through innovation, revival and preservation.

Format:

- Transfer to Artisans
- Introduction to Indian textile traditions (presentation with interactive display of samples and Q&A)
- Saree Draping for those who would like to learn; it's also interesting to just watch!
- Free time for shopping . Those who do not want to shop can visit a couple of art galleries in the area or visit the Prince of Wales Museum (Chhatrapati Shivaji Vastu Sangrahalaya)
- Return to hotel

Cost: Rs 3500 per person for a group of 25-30 persons (a minimum of 25 adults will be needed)

Includes: Airconditioned Coach, driver with cell phone, fuel, parking charges, tolls, Presentation on Indian textile traditions by Radhi Parekh, sharing of experiences and samples, Discussion/Q&A session, Sari Draping Demonstration for a few participants, tea and cookies, bottled water, all taxes.

Excludes: Lunch/snacks/drinks, entrances tips

Note: We will do only a demonstration of saree draping and will invite 2-3 guests for the draping. We cannot do the draping for all the guests. Please also note you should budget Rs 550 per person for foreign nationals for the entrance at Prince of Wales Museum
